December Revisited

During December we were visited by Rutherglen Primary School who shared their learning, read to residents and the choir gave a special performance.

An example of a wonderful community connection which seen many benefits for all involved.

Walbundrie Primary School also made each resident a Christmas Card and a special personalised decoration. Thank-you!

December Revisited

Peter and Cheryl Lister celebrated their 43rd Wedding Anniversary.

Congratulations to you both!

Sammy dropped by to wish everyone a Merry Christmas as part of Pet Therapy!

Deb (Catering Team member) and her 4 year old grandson Ezhah delivered Macaroons for all the residents to enjoy. The word around Glenview was that they were delicious! Thank-you for your kindness.

A special thanks to Hans and Nancy Duursma for coming in and provide live entertainment as part of our Social Group activity.

Consumer Advisory Committee Agenda

Date to be held: Friday, 8 December, 2023

1.0 In attendance: 24 residents attended

2.0 Apologies:

3.0 Minutes of previous meeting:

- Shane provided a brief report on the recent accreditation process. The accreditation team's verbal feedback was that Glenview is a good facility. The Leisure & Lifestyle program received particularly positive comments. The formal written report should be available in two weeks.
- Shane provided an update on the building program. Plans have gone to tender. Tender should be awarded in the near future and the projected date for completion of the building is November 2024.
- Shane proposed a trial of moving the evening meal time from 5.00 p.m. to 5.30. This suggestion was well received by residents.
- Penny and the kindergarten teacher have had preliminary talks about the proposed intergenerational program. They will meet again on 20 March to discuss program planning.
- Residents have had the opportunity to view the ABC's Old People's Home for 4 Year Olds.

4.0 Correspondence:

N/A

5.0 Compliments / Comments:

- Beryl complimented Kerrie on her energy and enthusiasm.
- Leonie commented on the breadth & diversity of the L&L program, saying she'd seen posts on Facebook where residents from another facility had been taken for a walk. "That's been happening here forever. Residents have many activities."
- Kerrie thanked Emma Dowdell and Tanya Ewing for their energy and creativity with the Christmas photo shoot.

6.0 Catering Services

- Adrian offered an update on the summer menu commencing next week. Residents will continue to be offered two choices. Salads will feature but the focus will remain on health, tasty meals.
- Adrian asked for feedback and indication of preferences, saying, "We're here to keep the residents happy."

7.0 Environmental Services Report:

- Shane provided an update on progress on the new facility build. Concreting is continuing. Framework is being erected.
- Progress is good and it is reported that the build is on track for a November 2024 completion.
- A group of residents had a bus tour past the site last week.

8.0 Infection Prevention and Control Report

- Kerry Foyne advised covid boosters and shingles vaccinations will be available for residents early next year.

9.0 NUM Report and Care Related Information

- Annette advised a Consumer Advisory Board, consisting of four residents, family members, Shane and a board member will be established in 2024. This group will meet four times a year to provide feedback and report directly to the Board of Management.

10.0 Leisure and Lifestyle Report/Outline

- Kerrie announced receipt of a $50 voucher won by residents participating in Wheel of Fortune against 61 other facilities.
- She asked for suggestions as to:
 - a) what that voucher should be spent on
 - b) ideas for outings
- Kerrie also displayed a range of donated games and puzzles.
- The residents and families Christmas afternoon tea is planned for Thursday 14 December and a traditional Christmas lunch will be served on Christmas day for residents and participating family members.

Celebrity spotlight

(One of the Most Significant Cultural Icons of the 20th Century and 'The King of Rock and Roll')

Elvis Aaron Presley was a noted American singer and actor. He is most acknowledged for his contribution to the Rock and Roll genre of Western music. Also known as 'The king of Rock and Roll', Presley popularized rockabilly, which was a blend of rhythm and blues and Country music. His performance style was a combination of energy and erotic sensuousness. He was greatly influenced by the African American singers like Arthur Crudup and his music cut across racial prejudices. This made him quite a controversial figure. His gorgeous looks and scintillating stage performances brought Hollywood to his threshold. He acted in several movies and even composed music for movie soundtrack albums. After a seven-year long break from live performances, Presley returned to the small screen with 'Elvis', a show that became an instant hit. He was the first performer whose concert was broadcast via satellite. He received numerous music awards and was included in several music halls of fame. He is also the bestselling solo artist in the history of music. One of the most celebrated music and cultural icons of the twentieth century, Elvis Presley died at the age of 42 due to drug overdose.

Childhood & Early Life

Elvis Presley was born in the family of Vernon Elvis Presley and Gladys Love, on January 8, 1935, at Tupelo, Mississippi.

His identical twin brother, Jesse Garon Presley, was delivered stillborn 35 minutes before him.

The Presleys were a religious family and attended an Assembly of God Church regularly.

He found his first musical inspiration here.

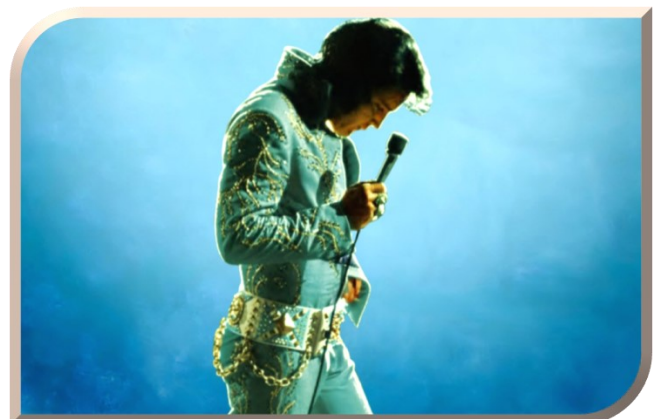

His first public performance was on October 3, 1945, at the Mississippi-Alabama Fair and Dairy Show where he sang 'Old Shep'.

On his twelfth birthday, he was gifted his first guitar. He received basic lessons of guitar from his uncles and the new pastor at the family's church.

He was greatly inspired by country singers like Ted Daffan, Ernest Tubb and Southern Gospel singer, Jake Hess.

Younger brother of Mississippi Slim (a singer who had a radio show on Tupelo's WELO during the later 1940s) was a classmate of Presley and often took him to the station. Slim arranged two on-air performances for Presley when he was just 12.

In June 1953, when he graduated from high school, Presley had already chosen music as his career.

Career

Elvis Presley's first demo record was cut at Sun Studio. On July 5, 1954, DJ Philips recorded Presley singing Arthur Crudup's 'That's all right'. Three days later, the song was played on air and it became a huge hit. The same song was his first single.

Backed with guitarist Scotty Moore and bassist Bill Black, Presley played publicly at the Bon Air Club on 17th July, 1954. They were soon joined by a drummer.

By that time, Presley had appointed Tom Parker as his executive manager. Both Phillips and Parker negotiated for a contract between Elvis Presley and 'RCA Victor'. The deal was struck on November 21, 1955, and Elvis's Sun contract was sold for a price of $40,000.

On January 28, 1956, Presley made his television debut on 'Stage Show'. This was followed by 'Milton Berle Show', 'Steve Allen Show' and many more.

In March 1956, he appeared for an audition for the movie 'Love me Tender' with the Paramount Movie Studios. He was signed on to do six more movies.

About two weeks after his audition, Elvis received his first gold record for "Heartbreak Hotel," which had sold one million copies.

On December 20, 1957, Presley received a draft notice. He could have got himself excused from joining the military, but he chose to enter the US army as a common soldier. He was away from the music scene for two years, but his manager Parker excelled in keeping up his fame.

On March 2, 1960, he was discharged from the army with the rank of sergeant, and he returned to the United States.

His first comeback album was 'Elvis is Back' which was followed by 'Something for Everybody'. He soon began appearing in TV shows like 'The Frank Sinatra Timex Special'.

Presley was offered a number of movies at this stage. Most of them were same old musical comedies like 'Paradise, Hawaiian Style'.

On December 3, 1968, he returned to the stage in the acclaimed televised comeback special Elvis. The success of the show buoyed him to produce his first non-soundtrack album 'From Elvis in Memphis'.

He met the then President Richard Nixon, on December 21, 1970.

Elvis Presley kept on with his album recordings, tours, concerts, and shows even with poor health.

Major Works

It is estimated that Elvis had sold more than one billion records globally. His most memorable hits include 'Jailhouse Rock', 'Hound Dog', 'Blue Christmas', 'My Baby Left Me'.

He starred in 31 feature films in the central role. Most remembered of his movies are 'Love me Tender', 'Wild in the Country', 'Blue Hawaii', 'King Creole', among others.

He also appeared in three television specials, – 'Elvis', 'Elvis: Aloha from Hawaii, via Satellite, and 'Elvis in Concert'.

Awards & Achievements

Elvis received 14 Grammy nominations and won three times for the album 'How Great Thou Art' (1967), the album 'He Touched Me' (1972) and his live Memphis concert recording of the song 'How Great Thou Art'.

In 1971, NARAS gave him the Lifetime Achievement Award. Six of Elvis' recordings have been included into the NARAS Hall of Fame.

On January 16, 1971, The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce named Elvis One of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of the Nation.

Family, Personal Life & Death

On May 1, 1967, Elvis Presley married Priscilla Beaulie at the Aladdin Hotel in Las Vegas. They divorced in January 1973.

Elvis' daughter, Lisa Marie, was born on February 1, 1968. She, too, went on to become a singer.

His drug addiction worsened after the divorce. On the morning of August 16, 1977, Elvis was found on the floor of his bathroom at Graceland. The doctors said that the immediate cause of death was cardiac arrest. He was only 42.

Light Heartedness

Sean and Mary

On their sixtieth anniversary Sean and Mary took a walk back to their old high school, holding hands all the way. The school building was not locked, so they entered, and wandered around the corridors and classroom, reminiscing about their happy school days together. On their way back home, an armoured car passed them, and a bag fell out, practically landing at their feet. Mary quickly picked it up, but not being sure what to do with it, they took it home. There, she counted the money. The bag contained $50,000! Sean said, "We have to give it back." Mary said, "Finders keepers." She put the money back in the bag and hid it up in their attic. The next day, two garda detectives were canvassing the neighbourhood looking for the money and knocked on their door. "Pardon me", the detective said, "but did either of you find a bag that fell out of an armoured car yesterday?" Mary said, "No." Sean said, "She's lying. She hid it up in the attic." Mary said, "Don't believe him, he's getting senile." The detectives question Sean, "Tell us the story from the beginning." Sean began, "Well, when Mary and I were walking home from school yesterday..." The first detective turns to his partner and says, "We're outta here."
